Re: In the Matter of Petition of USTelecom for Forbearance Pursuant to 47 U.S.C. Section 160(c); WC Docket No. 18-141; Category 1

Dear FCC,

Why in the world would the FCC act to limit broadband competition? I know. It's a trick question. Could it be the FCC is not actually interested in supporting a competitive market but just wants to limit it to a few of their very dear friends? Seems pretty obvious the FCC has little interest in protecting consumers like myself who benefit from a small local broadband provider that gives better service, at a cheaper price and without the privacy invasion and internet censoring that the FCC favors so much in their big cable buddies. I need an internet provider that won't limit my access and is affordable at high speeds. I work with large image files that take forever otherwise.

Come on, stand up for the actual people you are supposed to be serving.
